- 3. A question was asked about export controls and where information can be found. Steve Ericksonreferred themembers to the Export Controls website. stated that each case is unique and that we follow the Federal guidelines and regulations of what universities do is exempt from export controls coverage summeralmental research that which is in the public domain, and research linked to courses published in our course catalog are excluded under the guidelines. The biggest problem all universities have concerns "deemed exports". The is a procedure where OSP obtains information on possible export controls via the Internal Proposal Transmittal Form and forwards the information to Steve who contacts the department.
- 4. Policy review and formulation was discussed. The Policy Matrix/Inventory was distributed to the URC. Stevericksonspecified that the max/inventory serves as one place to find all researchelated policies. The Office for Research Integrity and Compliance performs periodic assessments to ensure that policies and form-stoare up date and to ensure that the inventory is complete and them inconsistencies.
 - Steve also distributed the Policy Gantt Chart. The Chart shows the status of policy development and stages of review and approval. The URC is part of the review process. Policies are reviewed by the URC, then the Council of Deans and the Office of General Counsel.
